The Remote Sensing Specialty Group of the Association of American Geographers is pleased to announce the 2007-2008 Honors Competition for Student Papers. Students at all academic levels are invited to submit original research on all topics in the field of remote sensing. Research must have been completed within the past academic year, during the author's undergraduate or graduate studies, and can include thesis and dissertation topics. Papers must be written entirely by the applicant. However, thesis and dissertation advisors can be co-authors on the papers. Papers will be presented at the Annual Meeting to be held April 15-19, 2008 in Boston, MA.

Submission Requirements

Students who are interested should submit electronically (1) extended abstracts, (2) the advisor's form, and (3) a copy of the email receipt received from the AAG online abstract submission process.*

Guidelines for the extended abstract and advisor's form are posted at the RSSG web page (<http://www.aagrsg.org>). The deadline for abstract submission to this competition is October 26, 2007, one week prior to the final AAG Abstracts Submission date as posted at the AAG website (www.aag.org), to allow non-finalists to be placed in other sessions of their choice. Up to 15 finalists will be chosen.

Awards

First, second, and third place awards will be determined immediately following the competition sessions and awarded at the Awards Luncheon. The prizes are: $500 for the first place paper, $250 for second place, and $150 for third place. An undergraduate award may also be made to an outstanding undergraduate researcher. The Annual Banquet fee will be covered for all winners. The committee reserves the right to not offer such prizes if the papers are not of appropriate quality.

Judging

Papers will be evaluated on content, research design and overall quality. Presentations will be evaluated on the content, visual aids and overall presentation quality. The academic level of the entrants will be taken into account during the evaluation process.
